CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN

29 November 1962

DAILY BRIEF

Cuba: Disassembly of the IL-28 jet light bombers continues.

Of the [] IL-28s at San Julian airfield, only [] appeared still fully assembled [] [] had appeared complete the day before; on 15 November at least [] and possibly as many as [] were completely assembled. [] remain unopened.

At Holguin airfield, all [] of the IL-28 [] [] had been removed by 27 November. Some of [] had also been removed from the airfield. []

*Sino-Indian Border: Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chen Yi affirmed his government's intention to start withdrawing troops from forward positions in the disputed border area on 1 December.

Chen's speech at an Albanian Embassy reception on 28 November also contained a sharp warning against any new resort to force by the Indians, which Chen said would be "futile." He added that Indian failure to respond "positively" to the Chinese proposals--"in accordance with the desires of the US"--would be "most dangerous."

Peiping's keen interest in the proposed meeting of neutrals in Colombo early next month and the strong Chinese desire to appear reasonable at this time suggest that at least a token pull-back will take place on schedule. The phasing of the operation and its ultimate extent will, however, depend on New Delhi's actions.

Congo: Adoula's opponents failed to overthrow his government in a parliamentary vote on 28 November, but Adoula may have won only a brief reprieve.

The motion to censure Adoula received 50 of 99 votes, 16 short of the required two-thirds majority of those present. The vote suggests that the opposition is unable presently to muster a simple majority of the listed members of both houses of Parliament--the alternative method of unseating the government.

The opposition will almost certainly try again in the near future. In trying to stay in office, Adoula seems more likely than ever to resort to compromises with the proponents of closer cooperation with radical African nationalists and of mounting greater force against Katanga.
